JAILER L. L. JONES HAS BEEN INDICTED

Charged With Neglecting His Duty as Jailer of County.

Allowing Willis Mount to Run at Large Said to Have Caused It.

MOUNT OFTEN IN FELL CHARGE

An indictment was returned by the grand jury yesterday afternoon when a batch of eighteen was turned into court, against Jailer Fayette Jones, charging wilful neglect of his duties as jailer of McCracken county.

The indictment, it is understood, resulted from his having practically given Willis Mount his freedom for several months past. Mount has never evinced the slightest desire to escape, and although at the last trial of his case for killing Willis Nutt he was given twenty-one years, later being granted a new trial on appeal, he has gone about the jail and courthouse yard for months without ever violating the confidence placed in him. In fact, he has practically been turnkey at the county jail since the deputy jailer was dispensed with by Jailer Jones several months ago.

Mount has not only been carrying the keys of the jail, but has also frequently been in sole charge during the absence of Jailer Jones. During the summer when the court house was being cleaned and put in shape, Mount supervised the work and had charge of the men who were washing the walls. No one would have suspected that he was under indictment for wilful murder and not permitted to give bond.

It has been remarked by many for several weeks that Mount was probably the only prisoner in the United States indicted for murder and awaiting trial for his life, who was unbroken at the jail in which he was supposed to be confined, and who frequently had sole charge of it and all the prisoners therein.

It is not known who brought the matter before the grand jury. Being in full view of the jail, where they could see Mount in charge while Jailer Jones was over at circuit court with prisoners, it is probable the jurors simply took up the matter themselves without its being brought to their attention.

A grand jury this afternoon stated that some of the evidence before the jury was that Mount, while in charge of the jail, sent two pety larceny prisoners out in the jail yard to clean a buggy or carry a horse when a thunder storm came up. While the storm was raging the prisoners sealed the walls and escaped, being still at large. Jailer Jones it is said, was not at the jail at the time, but had left Mount in charge.

The juror further stated that it was the intention of the grand jury to have Mount himself before the jury but that on account of rushing business, he was not summoned, sufficient evidence having been secured on which to base an indictment.

At last accounts Jailer Jones had been taken before Judge Reed on a bench warrant and his case set, and Mount was still enjoying his liberty at the jail.

Killed While Coupling Cars in Memphis Yards.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 22.—While coupling cars for the Illinois Central railroad in North Memphis yesterday afternoon, H. O. Jaco, foreman of the crew, switch engine No. 89, was mashed between the cars, and received injuries which caused his death.

The deceased leaves a young wife and child. He was thirty years old. The injured man realized that he was going to die and bore his suffering with great fortitude. His only concern seemed to be for his wife, whom he said was in delicate health. He begged that the knowledge of the accident be kept from her as long as possible, so that she might be spared every moment of suffering.

TEN STATES

EXPECTED TO DROP OUT OF RURAL CARRIERS' ASSOCIATION.

President Cunningham Won a Victory in His Fight For Re-election.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—At yesterday's session of the Rural Letter Carrier's Association a motion to have President Cunningham retain his office for one year longer was carried by a large majority. As a result it is possible that about ten states that are unfriendly to the president will drop out of the association. It is reported that a committee already has been appointed by those who are opposed to Cunningham to draw up a constitution for the proposed new body.

The anti-Cunningham factions speak guardedly of this matter. At present, however, as the delegates that are backing Cunningham say that they do not expect such action to be taken.

The first matter on the program was the annual address of the president. Following this a motion was made by delegate C. M. Adams, of Davenport, Ia., that the term of president be extended for one year from the present convention, in accordance with a by-law of the constitution of the association.

This by-law provides that when an executive officer of the national body is forced to quit the service of the federal government because of a conflict between those duties and his duties to the association or because he has not time to fulfill both duties, he shall be permitted to serve one year from the expiration of the term he lost his position.

Mr. Cunningham had lost his position with the government for being absent from his rural route without leave or without proper authority while he was attending to his duties as president of the association. He was entitled to another year in the office of president, but he had waived this right, saying that he wished to be president only if it were the will of the majority of the delegates. The president vacated the chair and Paul S. Meadgen was put in his place. Then debate fast and furious was carried on but finally the motion went to a vote and was carried by a vote of 57 for the motion and 35 against it.

In his annual address President Cunningham spoke of the relationship between the association and the post-office department, saying that the association now has approval of the department and that it should do everything in its power to follow the wishes of the department officials as they have the welfare of the carriers at heart.

Black Hand Outrage Committed at Early Hour Upon New York Tenement

New York, Sept. 22.—With a roar that was heard for blocks, and one which threw the occupants of an entire neighborhood of densely crowded tenements into a panic, a dynamite bomb was exploded on the steps of a tenement house in First avenue. The neighborhood was shaken as by an earthquake and scores of sleepers were thrown from their beds. That nobody was seriously injured appears remarkable.

There are two stores on the ground floor of the house. One is a meat shop kept by Henry Blumberg, and the other is a barber shop run by Henry S. Scarito. Living on the other floors were sixteen families. Last Tuesday Scarito went to police headquarters with a letter sent to him signed "Black Hand." He said it was the fourth he had received.

A demand had been made for $2,000 in cash, but it was not made clear to whom he was to pay the money. He was told that detectives would work on the case, and when home reassured. The bomb which exploded this morning was placed in his shop. Sleeping in a room back of the meat market was an employee of Blumberg. This man was so badly frightened that he became unconscious, and it was half an hour before he could be restored.

Policemen had all they could do to restore quiet among the frightened tenants, who fled in panic down the hallways leading from the quarters, and more than an hour elapsed before they would go back to bed. Much damage was done to doors, windows and woodwork, but the house was not damaged structurally.

QUAINT CHARACTERS IN PADUCAH TODAY

Rev. Orne Finishes His Inspections of Institutions Here.

Finds Everything in Good Shape—Industrial Schools For Children.

AGED WOMAN AND HER DOG.

Rev. A. S. Orne, who started out from Dover, N. H., ten years ago in company with his wife to make a tour of the United States, and who had but seven cents in actual money at the time, this morning finished his inspection of the county jail and Home of the Friendless, and thus ended his inspections of every jail and city prison in the United States, he says.

Rev. Orne will this afternoon hold a conference with Mayor Yeler and attempt to have an ordinance passed appointing or creating the office of Prohibition Officer whose duty it will be to arrest runaway children and children who loiter about the streets with no occupation, take them to the Home of the Friendless, or if charged with any crime, not to take them to the city or county jails where they are likely to come in contact with experienced criminals.

"This is my great work," Rev. Orne declared, "and I think from my study of the matter I can talk intelligently and convincingly on it. I say that if they have done

ARMENIAN QUARTER.

TITLE, Sept. 22.—All the woolen shawl factories here are idle owing to the declaration of a strike involving 8,000 workmen. Tartars attacked the Armenian quarter of Shemakaha last Tuesday.

Advices from the Shusha district state that robbers frequent the roads and that it is practically impossible to bring provisions to the district. The police of Batoun have discovered a quantity of rifles and ammunition destined for delivery to the trans-Caucasian revolutionists.

Families Abandon Homes in Spain.

Madrid, Sept. 22.—Disputes from the famine districts of Andalusia say that entire trains of emigrants are leaving to embark for South America. Many families are abandoning their homes and farms. Some villages in Galicia have been totally deserted through despair of receiving the promised relief.

The steamship companies announced that fifteen steamers loaded with emigrants will leave Andalusian ports in October. The press is urging the government to adopt energetic measures against wholesale emigration to America.

He said further:

"I do not intend to stop my labor in this country but will go on and make a tour of the world. First I will go down the Mississippi, a strip of land uninhabited by a few class of Greeks. My wife and I have neglected this one strip and feel that we should go there before we leave the United States."

Begins Long Journey Alone.

There is an aged woman at the wharf today who is undertaking more than the average person would like to try. The woman's name is Mrs. Isabel Mouney and she is 75 years old. She is going from Warren county, Tenn., to Clarkson, Wis., a place not far from Madison. She lives in a two horse wagon, of narrow gauge, covered with a patched canopy of oil cloth, clothes, and evans, and intends traveling as much of the way as possible in this vehicle.

Inside of the wagon are several chickens, a dog, a clock, and few shucks on which the woman sleeps. The woman has lived alone for six years in Tennessee, but was overcome with a desire to return to her native town. She was formerly postmistress at Harkman, Wis., has saved the money she made there, and is now returning on it. She seems to be well educated and is able to take care of herself, from the story she told today. She was asked how she would defend her belongings if any one attempted to rob her, but she refused to state how she would do it. She denied having a gun of any description, but gave one to understand that it would not go well for one to put his head in the wagon.

She came from Nashville on the Butterfield and will go from here to St. Louis on the Saltitic. From there she will get a boat to Dubuque, Ia. The rest of the long journey will be made by driving the horses to the wagon. She was asked what she lived on, and responded that fruits and bread were enough for her. A fire was noticed near the wagon and in response to the question, she stated that she warmed up some tea and cooked a small piece of meat that she had saved, and that this morning was the first time she had eaten a warm meal in over a week.

She is sometimes lonesome, she admits, but explains that her chickens keep her sufficient company. She gave the story to the questioner on the condition that he would see that she got a few papers to read during idle moments.

BEARING TREATY.

Secretary of Russian Peace Mission on Way to St. Petersburg.

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—Mr. Phanion, secretary of the Russian peace commission, arrived here today hearing the treaty signed by the plenipotentiaries, which was turned over to the custody of the foreign office. News of the arrival of the document was communicated to his majesty by telegraph.

The foreign office will now prepare a copy of the treaty for the emperor's signature. He will not sign the copy signed by the plenipotentiaries. The emperor's copy will be especially engrossed on parchment and will commence with the emperor's name and title, also in Russian, reciting in part the act of ratification.

This will follow articles of the treaty in French, and at the end will be another paragraph in Russian, completing the act of ratification, after which will follow the emperor's signature, which will be countersigned by Foreign Minister Lansdorff. To this document will be affixed the seal of state on wax, and will be enclosed in an especially made silver case to insure the protection and preservation. The leaves of the treaty will be bound by special silken cords.

A mysterious stranger who was arrested yesterday afternoon and released later is suspected. When he left town he went along the Gladstone cemetery road.

Later when the watchers went to the cemetery to guard it for the night they found the damage already done.

Scores of people are now searching for this stranger.

A man giving the name of Charles Glagler, Battle Creek, Mich., has been arrested at Gladstone on suspicion, because his shoes fitted the footprints found in the cemetery near the damaged crosses.

THE Fall and Winter models of the Atterbury System now on sale reveal individual and collective elements of refinement which can come only from high-class exponents of the Sartorial Art. Nothing in this material world, as you are aware, is perfect, but Atterbury Clothes are a closer approach to the ideal than any other clothes-product presented for your consideration. They are emblematic of the best skill possible at this period of the world's development, and possess individuality and smartness which other wholesale tailors seem utterly unable to imitate. We beg to disassociate ourselves from the kind of apparel produced by machine houses, and think you will agree with us that nothing short of hand-tailoring of the most advanced kind can impart the charm that should cling to man's modern dress. Theatrical Notes

With plenty of swinging musical numbers, a gaily costumed chorus of comely girls, with James J. Murray, Budlong Moley and Maud Mallory as principal fumakers it is not surprising that "The Rajah of Bhong" should score a decided success with the amusement loving public. The book and lyrics are written in Will L. Roberts' best vein and Hal Campbell is responsible for the music, much of which is on the popular order. Signor Ernest Salvatore has staged the piece with an eye to the picturesque, and the costumes are a pleasing feature of the production. "The Rajah of Bhong" will be seen at The Kentucky on Monday night.

Another well pleased crowd enjoyed "The World in Motion" at the Kentucky theater last night by the Fiske Stock company. A number of new moving views were presented in addition to those of local character, and the combination made a very attractive entertainment. The vineyard part of the bill is fine, the specialists all being first class and of such character as to win constant applause. The company remains the remainder of the week and will give a matinee performance Saturday afternoon. All who would be highly entertained should attend the company's remaining performances without fail.

The stage here this morning was 12.9, a rise of 1.9. The river has risen 7.5 feet in the last three days.

The Henry Harley was late yesterday, not arriving here until 1 o'clock last night from Evansville. The Joe Fowler is today's Evansville packet.

The Warren left on time on her regular Calro run this morning.

The City of Saittole is due out of the Tennessee river tomorrow evening from St. Louis.

The steamer Kentucky arrived from the Tennessee river last night at 10 o'clock and was at Joplin today unloading. She leaves on her return trip tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock.

The Jesse B. passed up yesterday with a railroad barge from Joplin for Rose Claire.

The gasoline boat, Hazel, while making her trip here from Dyersburg, yesterday, broke her spoked chain and dropped it in the river at Cottonwood Bar and had to float down to the city.

The Woolfolk went down to Cairo yesterday.

The Royal was the Golconda packet today.

The steamer Harth went to Caysville yesterday after a tow of coal.

The Wash Honshell was tied up at Rockport owing to a break in her machinery. Her engineer and captain went to Evansville to get pieces to repair the broken parts.

The men claim that this is the worst year for their business in a long time. "It's the worse business I've had in twenty years," declared one prominent man today. "I wish the year 1905 had never come. There is no cause for it that I know of, except that the railroads simply seem to want no less." Few of the tie boats are now running, but most of them are expected to start when the river rises.

River men are preparing for a low stage during October, and some of the big boats will probably have to tie up, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. The present season has been entirely satisfactory to river men operating boats between this city, Cincinnati and Evansville, and during the present summer season most of the boats have made money. None of the boats has gone aground on account of low water, and the freight shipments have been heavy.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

WILLING TO STOP

The Work on Kentucky and Jefferson Street This Fall.

But Not Until the Contractors Themselves Ask for Extension of Time.

THE BUSINESS OF MEETING

The board of aldermen last night at its regular meeting indicated that it was willing to stop work on Kentucky and Jefferson streets after the brick is laid to Fourth and Fifth, provided the contractors ask for it.

When the board met last night a voluminous petition from property owners along the thoroughfares against attempting the work during cold weather was read, but the board refused to do anything interfere with the order to begin work unless the contractors ask for it.

Alderman Durrett was the only member absent.

The mayor's sale of city property on Clay street to Col. John Stanoff for $11,000 was ratified.

The board of works was ordered not to let a contract for grading and graveling Yelser and Hays avenues next Wednesday. A request has been made by property owners to have the street 50 feet instead of a 33 foot street and the boards want the matter held up until the question can be settled.

The offer of Mrs. Margaret Atch of property to open 21st street was referred to the street committee.

The city solicitor was instructed to look into the matter of allowing the First Baptist church and others to pay for street reconstruction on the ten year plan.

The proposition of James Clark to take charge of a large dump was referred to the collector and sanitary committee. He wants $25 a month in warm weather and $25 in cold weather.

The aldermen, when the report of the board of works was read regarding the extension of sanitary sewerage, ordered the board of works to investigate the feasibility of having a sanitary engineer come here and draw the plans for the new sewerage district.

The matter of passing an ordinance providing for uniform streets and sidewalks, and doing away with the constant disagreements over the character of street material, was at the suggestion of Mayor Yelser referred to the board of works.

A number of protests, petitions for relief from overassessment, and such things referred by the council Monday, were similarly referred by the aldermen.

The matter of employing former Solicitor Puryear to prosecute a suit against the $1,000 bond of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company for violation of the Sunday law, was referred to the finance committee.

Bills, salaries and other accounts were allowed.

Ordinances were acted on as follows:

For concrete five foot sidewalks on Jefferson between 14th and 17th, first passage.

Ordinance for same kind from 18th to 25th on Jefferson street, second passage.

First passage to ordinance to grave Sowell street from Ashhook avenue to Hayes avenue and Hayes avenue from Sowell street to Bridge street.

The ordinance committee was instructed to have in a new ordinance regarding the office of sewerage inspector by the first of the year.

The matter of opening a street to the box factory was referred to the street committee.

The Water company was ordered to extend mains from 12th and Salmon to Rowlandtown.

The board of works was ordered to proceed with the concrete culvert on Caldwell street.

Dye & Stewart were granted a license for a saloon near Third and Elizabeth.

James Loving was given a transfer of saloon license from 928 Hinds street, to 10th and Hinds.

The petition of butchers regarding meat peddlars was tabled.

Twenty-five dollars overpaid city license was refunded Bradley Brothers.

A request to extend the sanitary sewerage 50 ft. on Trimble from 5th and Trimble was referred to the board of works.

Solicitor Campbell was instructed to draw up a deed from the city to the board of education of the old Mechanicsburg school property.

The board of works was instructed to do something to protect the public from the freak street and sidewalk on Second street between Broadway and Kentucky.

The L. C. was ordered to afford a better drainage at Second and Monroe, a switch interfering with the flow of water.

The L. C. was given permission to unload school coal on Second St.

Alderman Bell asked if property owners on South Side could not build their own sidewalks. He said some wanted to build them themselves and others wanted to let their own contracts. The matter was referred to the city engineer and city collector.

The city engineer was instructed to move the fountain at Third and Elizabeth, several hundred feet away where Elizabeth runs down from Third.

The board then adjourned.

The sharpest arrow in true love's quiver is the one tipped with jealousy.

M ESSRS. HAYS, LEVI & CO., of New York, makers of the "Atterbury System" of Men's Clothing, stand today pre-eminent in the clothing world, acknowledged as the custom tailors who revolutionized the making of high grade clothing.

In all the large cities, in the best clothes shops, their garments are shown and worn by men of discriminating taste. In Paducah they have appointed us sole distributors because we are known as the largest sellers of high grade clothing.

In connection with the Atterbury System Clothing, we want to state to our friends and customers that it is all we claim for it, and more. In the construction only the most skilled tailors are employed who can impart that individuality, that character and drape wherein one artist excels another.

You cannot detect the difference between the "Atterbury System" Clothing and that produced by the best merchant tailors, because it not only possesses all the points that characterize fashionable garments, but taste has been displayed in the selection of the fabrics. They reflect "quiet elegance," and in the cutting, lines have been followed that insure a perfect fit.

Encouraged by the securement of this elegant clothing, and always on the alert for new and better devices for the preserving and handling of fine clothes, we personally inspected the products of the greatest shop-fitters of America at length and decided upon the Daily Thought.

"Never go out of your way to meet disaster."

IT WAS A BOOMERANG.
The democrats started their battery of vituperation too soon, immediately upon the announcement that the president of one of the life insurance companies had given $48,000 to the republican campaign fund last year, the democratic press began belching forth a withering fire into the republican camp, as the war correspondent would say. Judge Parker was interviewed. He told of how the election was "bought," and reviewed the manifold virtues of immaculate democracy, and recounted the multitudinous evils of republicanism. National Secretary Woodson added his own testimonial, and "everything was lovely and the goose honked high." It was the first time the democrats had found anything to jubilate over since the election, and they made the best of it—while it lasted. Then came the reaction. The same man who said he gave $48,000 to the republicans, said he was harassed to death by the democrats for a contribution.

His exact words were: "My life was made weary by the democratic candidates chasing me for money in that campaign. Some of the very men who today are being interviewed in the papers and denouncing men who contributed to campaigns, were crossing my path every step I took looking for money. One—the candidate himself, Parker, if he would show up his books when he was chairman of the democratic state committee, it would give you a fit. He never rejected a dollar in the world. He would take every dollar that was paid to him."

Judge Parker, when shown the statement, issued what purported to be a denial, but it was not. He merely says that HE never directly or indirectly solicited funds from that or any other corporation. This is doubtless true. A candidate in his position could not, and would not be expected to. But others did, whether Judge Parker knew it or not. The life insurance president says they did, and this statement's entitled to just as much credence as the one he made about contributing to the republican campaign fund, which the democrats seized upon with so much avidity. Judge Parker has denied nothing that the corporation official said. In his "denial" he does not even refer to the accusation that while state chairman of the democratic party he, Judge Parker, took everything offered without compensation. His evasive explanation, denial, or whatever it may be termed, is too palpable to deceive anyone.

The whole incident is ludicrous. The democratic hoaray before the explosion came, was simply in case of sour grapes. The exposure shows that they were just as hot after the "dough" as the republicans. The "holier" they raised shows their brazen hypocrisy. The main thing the matter is that they couldn't get the money. Judge Parker should now make a more explicit statement. Some of the political grafters with whom he was surrounded are known to have held up corporations for all they could get in other campaigns, and if reports are correct, they were not always thoughtful enough to use the money for the purposes for which it was contributed.

The democratic leaders seem determined that the democratic party shall not forfeit the right to its symbol—Jackass.

Portions of the public schools doubtless are not as clean as they should be, but a school building cannot be expected to remain as clean as a parlor. The report of the board of health may be misleading. If the schools were in such an awfully unsanitary condition, the teachers and superintendent would have reported it. All the buildings have been given an overhauling, and school has been in session but two weeks, so there cannot be such an awful condition of health accumulated this soon after school opened. The board of health is to be commended however, for the interest it has taken, and for its prompt steps to secure better sanitary conditions in the schools. When it has finished this matter, it might take up the filthy condition of the city in general, parts of which never were cleaned so far as anyone has knowledge. Every school building is cleaned every day. Parts of the city, even in the business section, are never cleaned.

If Alderman Kraus wants to see "better work" than that of the blithely contractors on Broadway, he can easily find it in Nashville, St. Louis and many other cities. Men in Paducah, including some of the most and most intelligent citizens have seen it, and so may Alderman Kraus. Is he wanted to find it very badly. Simply because he has never seen it is no sign it does not exist. The bad job on Broadway, which after all is not so bad as might appear, is due to the long delay of the legislative bodies, forcing or permitting the contractors to put the material down in cold weather.

TWENTY-SIX WERE CONVICTED HERE

At the Term of Circuit Court
Just Closed.

They Were Sentenced Today—H. H. Loving Admitted to Bail by Agreement Commonwealth.

AND OTHER COURT NOTES

Tomorrow will end the September term of the McCracken criminal court, when the grand jury is finally discharged. Judge Rea held court this morning but did nothing more than sentence the prisoners and hear a few motions in civil actions.

There were twenty-six convictions this term of court, but one defendant was discharged. The judgment being suspended during good behavior was Levi Ruff, a small negro boy who was given a term for house-breaking. On account of his tender age he was brought into court, sentenced to the reform school and then on motion of the commonwealth's attorney the judgment suspended and the defendant discharged.

Thomas Baker, colored, alleged to have been an accessory to Charles Johnson in the cutting of Greathouse Cheatham, was granted a new trial and recognized.

There will be twenty-five prisoners taken away, however. They include Mrs. Mary Brockwell, who was given a life term last court for murdering her three children, having been left here pending a motion for a new trial. She was supposed to be insane and her attorneys intended sustaining this plea, but it was later decided to accept the sentence.

This morning twenty-four prisoners were sentenced. They are all colored and are as follows:

Porter Hart, murder, 21 years; Ed. Marable, murder, 21 years; Ed. Settle, incest, 8 years; Rufe Minor, malicious assault, 5 years; Alex Fitzpatrick, grand larceny, 2 years; Rufe Neese, murder, 3 years; Charles Johnson, malicious cutting, 1 year; Will Matthews, converting property of his own, 1 year; Leander Donald, female, grand larceny, 2 years; Shelly Hughes, obtaining money by false pretenses, 1 year; John Jenkins, obtaining money by false pretenses, 1 year; John Jenkins, malicious striking, 1 year; Delle Marthel, female, forgery, 2 years; James Bonds, obtaining money by false pretenses, 1 year; Joe Lewis, obtaining money by false pretenses, 1 year; E. Mack, malicious assault, 2 years; Wm. Arnold, house-breaking, 1 year; Ed. Hampton, grand larceny, 2 years; Albert Wallace, malicious striking, 1 year; Will Fox, malicious shooting, 18 months; Augustus Green, grand larceny, 1 year; Riley Crowley, false swearing, 1 year; Ernest Hill, Lantz Hill, malicious assault, 2 years.

In the case of the Hills and Alex Fitzpatrick, appeals were granted.

Adjudged of Unsound Mind.

Jesse Hughes, a resident of the lower portion of the county, about 18 or 19 years of age, was this afternoon noon tried in circuit court by special jury and adjudged of unsound mind, and will be taken to the asylum tonight or tomorrow by his uncle, Mr. Henry Cunningham. The boy is crazy over religion and when sent out to work would go about fifteen feet, lie down on his hands and knees and begin praying, repeating it every fifteen or twenty feet. He informed the court that he was not crazy but was bothered by the Lord, who forbade him to work.

In the case of Ollie McCord against Harry Augustus, a judgment for sale, was filed.

Criminal Circuit Court. Ernest and Lantz Hill, colored, were found guilty of maliciously assaulting C. E. Evans, white, on the Calico road several months ago, and given two years each in the penitentiary. The defendants made a motion for a new trial.

Harry Phillips, white, executed a $300 bond for his appearance during the December term of court to answer to the charge of larceny. He is alleged to have assisted "Slick" Veltema in stealing J. E. Warford's watch.

Alex Fitzpatrick, alias Fitzgerald, colored, was given two years in the penitentiary for stealing a watch from J. R. Cross, a railroad conductor. He claimed that he swapped a silver watch with $6 to boot to a white boy, but could not locate the white boy.

Civil Docket. A judgment for divorce was filed in the case of Joannina McCartney against Wm. C. V. McCartney, the latter an attorney.

Wants $1,000 Damage.

F. M. McGlathery this afternoon filed suit in circuit court against C. R. Hall for $1,000 damages for the alleged misrepresentation of assets and liabilities in the sale of Hall's interest in business to the plaintiff Hall and J. T. Province were in business selling implements and groceries under the firm name of C. R. Hall & Co., and Hall sold out to McGlathery. The petition alleges that Hall gave McGlathery a list of the assets and liabilities and was paid $1,500 for his interest in the business. McGlathery alleges that he finds the list erroneous and that he was forced to pay out debts amounting to $1,000 in excess of the list furnished him by Hall, and prays damages to that amount.

SUES FOR PERSONAL INJURIES.

Elmer Collins this afternoon filed a suit against E. Rehkopf Saddle Co. and Hall for $4,000 damages for personal injuries.

He was working at the defendant's plant when caught in a machine and badly injured about the shoulders and arms. He alleges the damages amount to $4,000 and prays for that amount. The accident happened October, 1904.

Loving Granted Bail.

Yesterday afternoon an agreement was reached between attorneys for the prosecution and defense by which it was announced to Circuit Judge W. M. Reed that a $10,000 bond was satisfactory for H. H. Loving was satisfied by the commonwealth and Judge Reed then allowed the defendant to execute bond in the sum of $10,000. Dr. J. T. Reddick and Messrs. W. C. O'Brien and Eli Guthrie becoming his sureties. This made a hearing of a motion for bail set for this morning unnecessary.

Suit on Note.

R. H. Hicks this morning filed suit in circuit court against A. N. and M. J. Robinson to recover $150 alleged to be due on a note, and to attach property of the defendants to satisfy the claim.

County Court.

H. V. Keebler has been appointed guardian of Pearl Smith.

James E. Stone deems to L. W. Voss, for $50, property near Heath, in the county.

James E. Robertson deems to J. E. Potter, to $700, property in the Section addition to the city.

Cecil Reed, M. C., deems to Rehkopf $450, property in the county.

Man Tells Remarkable Story About His Experience With Payne Remedies.

"For the last two or three years I have fought no city where rheumatism has a firmer hold upon the people than right here in Paducah," said Payne last evening in answer to a question addressed to him as to what most of the people who call to see him are troubled with.

"There is a great deal of stomach trouble here and many people are afflicted with catarrh in one form or another, but there are more sufferers from rheumatism than all the rest combined. But one other city I have visited approaches Paducah in the prevalence of this disease and that city is Cincinnati. But even Cincinnati is far behind Paducah in the number of people who are suffering from rheumatism in different forms."

Rheumatism and the Weather.

"It may be possible that a lot of this rheumatism is only superficial and is due to changeable and unsettled weather. All sufferers with rheumatism are as a rule very much affected by damp, rainy weather. Rainy rheumatism, however, has nothing whatever to do with atmospheric

People and Pleasant Events

Married in Owensboro, Mr. Carl Andrew Wells, of Paducah, and Miss Adele Payne, of Owensboro, were married yesterday and arrived in Paducah last evening. They were tendered a reception and banquet at Red Men's hall and a large crowd was present. Yesterday's Owensboro Inquirer says of the wedding:

"The marriage of Mr. Carl Andrew Wells and Miss Adele Payne took place this morning at St. Paul's Catholic church at 7:30 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of friends of the bride and groom. Rev. E. S. Fitzgerald read the mass and performed the nuptial ceremony. The day happened to be a feast of St. Anthony, a martyr, and because of this the regular nuptial mass could not be celebrated and the decorations of the altar had to be in red. The effect, however, was very pretty and quite novel. In the chancel were ferns and other plants well arranged. The sanctuary and steps leading to the altar where the couple knelt were carpeted in white. As the wedding party entered Miss Johanna May Turner played the Lohengrin wedding march and Mendelssohn's march was played as they left the church. "Hearts and Flowers," by Tobani, was played on the organ and violin by Miss Turner and Miss Mary Wright, and Rev. Father Connor sang the Gounod-Hach Ave Maria and another Ave Maria was sung by Miss Turner. The only attendants were Mr. Earl Wells, a brother of the groom, and Mr. Charles Payne. After the couple left the main auditorium they were greeted by their many friends and showered with rice as well as with greetings and congratulations the most cordial. They drove to the Illinois Central depot and took the 9 o'clock train for Paducah, where they will make their home. Mrs. Wells was one of Owensboro's worthiest young women and she has a host of friends here and will surely make friends of all who meet her in her new home. Mr. Wells was in business here for a time and then went to Paducah, where he is reported to be doing well."

SOME OTHER SCHOOL MATTERS.

Sup't. C. M. Leib, of the Paducah public schools, thinks that within a year or two there will be such an increase in school children that another school will have to be built in the west end and the High school building used exclusively as a high school.

"I have studied the school question in Paducah hard and foresee the necessity of another school in the west end," he explained. "I have been looking up all public property which may be used for school purposes and have my eye on Lang park. This is one of the prettiest places about here for a park, taking into consideration the formation of the streets and the easy access the park is from all sides, but the city does not seem inclined to use it. In a few years the city will have to build a school in this portion of the city—that is when the High school gets crowded and this will be a matter of only a short time,—and I could not imagine a better place. Take the attendance in the primary and grammar grades in the two districts in which the Washington and Jefferson buildings are located and you will see an overflow of 75 pupils. Forty pupils to the room is as many pupils as any one teacher ought to be expected to handle, and in these two schools some teachers have from 45 to 50 and 55. This condition exists in grades from the First to Sixth inclusive."

"The board has been investigating this condition and is at a loss to know what to do. The board has no money with which to build a school in Rowlandtown, where a majority of this overflow comes from, and we will have to do the best we can."

The schools, excepting the over-flow in this district, are running along nicely. Prof. Snug is still in the lead for the carnival watch, the vote as counted last showing:

Sup't. Leib stated this morning that he appreciated the efforts of the board of health to better the sanitary conditions at the school houses, and would be pleased to co-operate with the board in every way, not only in the school matters, but in any initiation in general, as far as his duties would permit. There was one school connected with the sewers where the closets failed to flush. This was because the valve caps had been removed at the close of school last year and had not been replaced. A plumber replaced them and the flushing apparatus is now in excellent working order.

The principal trouble in this respects lies in the failure of the janitors to report promptly such matters, and Superintendent Leib has issued instructions to every principal to have the janitors report promptly ever, irregularly. The school authorities, as far as it is possible will remedy every defect in the sanitary

HARRY ALLEN CUT.

Had Thrashed a Man For Making an Insulting Remark About a Young Lady.

Harry Allen, a candidate for the democratic nomination for coroner of McCracken county, was cut late yesterday afternoon, it is alleged by Edward Cloonan, an engineer on the Illinois Central.

According to statements given out Allen had been electioneering, and near Eleventh and Broadway met Cloonan and other railroad men. They were walking towards town between Eighth and Ninth when Cloonan is alleged to have made an insulting remark about a young lady. Allen warned him to be careful what he said, as the young lady was a relative. Cloonan is alleged to have iterated what he said and Allen knocked him down several times.

The engineer is alleged to have rushed at Allen about 150 feet further on, and Allen stumbled off the sidewalk just in time to miss the full force of a murderous cut. The knife caught him on the right side of the throat and missed the jugular vein by a narrow margin, inflicting a gash four inches long.

He bled profusely, and was taken to Dr. Horace Rivers' office, where his injury was dressed. The wound is not dangerous. Cloonan escaped.

The Watch Contest.

Will Try to Use Girls.

Chilco, Sept. 22.—The experiments in the shops of the Chicago Typothete since the printers' strike began promises a new field of industry for girl stenographers. From the typewriter keyboard to that of a typesetting machine, the employers say, is only a short remove. So successful have the young women proved as "operators" in the large printing shops, that the proprietors are seeking for more of them. The Typhotheite has decided to advertise for a hundred girls for machine work, to take the places of striking printers. At present 25 girls are acting as strike breakers.

An admission of 25 cents will be charged to all not having an "exhibit."

A COSTUME PIECE

No. 2 of the Series

His eye twinkled, but it glinted on.

"We shall have our work cut out," was all I said.

"And do you suppose I should be born on it?" we hadn't?" cried Raffles. "My dear fellow, I would rob St. Paul's cathedral if I could, but I could no more sweep a hill when the shopwalker wasn't looking than I could barge the apes out of an old woman's basket. Even that little hussar last month was a sordid affair, but it was necessary, and I think its strategy redeemed it to some extent. Now, there's some credit and more sport in going where they boast they're on their guard against you. The Bank of England, for example, is the ideal cliff, but that would need half a dozen of us with years to give to the job, and meanwhile Heribert Bosenthall is high enough game for you and me. We know he's ruined. We know how Billy Purvis can fight. It'll be no soft thing, I grant you. But what of that, my good Bunny—what of that? A man's roach must exceed his grins, dear boy, or what the diabolus is a heaven for?"

"I would rather we didn't exceed ours just yet," I answered, laughing, for his spirit was irresistible and the plan was growing upon me despite my qualms.

"Trust me for that," was his reply. "I'll see you through. After all, I expect to find that the difficulties are nearly all on the surface. These fellows both drink like the devil, and that should simplify matters considerably. But we shall see, and we must take our time. There will probably turn out to be a dozen different ways in which the thing might be done and we shall have to choose between them. It will mean watching the house for at least a week in my case. It may mean lots of other things that will take much longer, but give me a week and I will tell you more—that's to say, if you're really up."

"Of course I am," I replied indignantly, "but why should I give you a week? Why shouldn't we watch the house together?"

"Because two eyes are as good as four and take up less room. Never mind in couples unless you're obliged. But don't you look offended, Bunny; there'll be plenty for you to do when the time comes; that I promise you. You shall have your share of the fun, never fear, and a purple diamond all to yourself—if we're lucky."

On the whole, however, this conversation left me less than lukewarm, and I still remember the depression which came upon me when Raffles was gone. I saw the folly of the enterprise to which I had committed myself—the sheer, gratuitous, unnecessary folly of it. And the paradoxes in which Raffles revelled and the frivolous ensure try which was nevertheless half sincere and which his mere personality rendered wholly plausible at the moment of utterance appealed very little to me when recalled in cold blood. I admired the spirit of pure mischief in which he seemed prepared to risk his liberty and his life, but I did not find it an infectious spirit on calm reflection. Yet the thought of withdrawal was not to be entertained for a moment. On the contrary, I was impotent of the delay ordained by Raffles, and perhaps no small part of my secret disaffection came of his gallant determination to do without me until the last moment.

If made it no better that this was characteristic of the man and of his attitude toward me. For a month we had been, I suppose, the thickest thieves in all London, and yet our intimacy was curiously incomplete. With all his charming frankness there was in Raffles a vein of impudent reserve which was perceptible enough to be very irritating. He had the insinuating secretiveness of the inveterate criminal. He would make mysteries of matters of common concern. For example, I never knew how or where he disposed of the Bond street jewels, on the proceeds of which we were both still leading the outward lives of hundreds of other young fellows about town. He was consistently mysterious about that and other details, of which it seemed to me that I had already earned the right to know everything. I could not but remember how he had led me into my first felony by means of a trick while yet incipient whether he could trust me or not. That I could no longer afford to resent, but I did resent his want of confidence in me now. I said nothing about it, but it rankled every day and never more than in the week that succeeded the Bosenthall dinner. While I met Raffles at the club he would take nothing. When I went to his room, he was out, or pretended to be.

One day he told me he was getting on well, but slowly. It was a more

Your Life Current.

The power that gives you life and motion is the nerve force, or nerve fluid, located in the nerve cells of the brain, and sent out through the nerves to the various organs.

If you are tired, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, feel stuffy, dull and melancholy, or have neuralgia, rheumatism, backache, periodical pains, indigestion, dyspepsia, stomach trouble, or the kidneys and liver are inactive, your life-current is weak.

Power-producing fuel is needed; something to increase nerve energy—strengthen the nerves. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the fuel you need. It feeds the nerves, produces nerve force, and restores vitality.

When I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine in Little Falls I was confined to my bed. I had severe nervous spells, the result of two years' illness with malaria. I gradually grew so weak that I was unable to sit up. The spells would commence with cold chills, and I could hardly walk without almost helplessly. My circulation was poor, I had doctorred right along but grew weaker and weaker. The Nervine seemed to strengthen me right away, and my condition was better. I have taken in all seven bottles of the Nervine, and I am entirely well."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggists, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

We have a great demand for suits at from $7.50 to $10.00 and to fill it we have a line of clothing made up on specifications made by us. We pay for it more than the $7.50 to $10.00 clothing usually costs, but are satisfied to do so because of the great satisfaction it gives our customers and the big increase each year in our sales of it. The patterns are surprisingly pretty, the workmanship of superior grade and the wearing qualities all that could be desired.

Let us show you this suit at $7.50 to $10.00.

The New Things in Hats

We are agents for Dunlap, Youngs, Stetson's and the Hawes hats. The new styles in derby and soft shapes are very nobby. Gray shades will be popular, but we have any shade one fancies. These hats are from $3.50 to $5.00.
